Relationships Australia[®]

VICTORIA

We hear you

Relationships Australia Victoria (RAV) is committed to providing quality services and we welcome feedback from our clients.

Feedback is very important to our organisation as it assists us to better identify client needs, ensure quality and continuously improve our services.

Feedback

Our staff value positive feedback from clients. We also welcome general feedback about our services, or ideas about how we could improve our services and centres.

Complaints

You have the right to make a complaint if you are not satisfied with the service you received from us. This includes whether you are dissatisfied with the behaviour of a staff member, or the way in which you were provided with the service.

How do I provide feedback or make a complaint?

You can provide feedback or make a complaint in different ways;

- verbally
- in writing (by email or letter)
- via our website at www.rav.org.au/feedback

Feedback and complaints can also be made anonymously or using a pseudonym.

What's the process?

1. If you feel comfortable, talk or write to the staff member and tell them what you are not happy about and what you would like to happen.

If you do this but are not satisfied with the response or action they take, you can ask to speak with or write to the Centre Manager.

2. If you would prefer not to speak to the staff member, you can ask to speak with or write to the Centre Manager instead, or lodge a complaint through our website at www.rav.org.au/feedback

The Centre Manager will contact you and investigate your complaint.

3. If you are not satisfied with the response from the Centre Manager, you can contact the RAV Client Complaints and Feedback Officer by emailing feedback@rav.org.au or calling (03) 8573 2222.

The Client Complaints and Feedback Officer will investigate your complaint, and let you know the outcome and possible next steps if you are not satisfied with the response.

You can also contact the government agency which funds the service you attended.

Your confidentiality and privacy will be maintained within Duty of Care parameters.

How long will the process take?

The follow up of your feedback or complaint may mean management will need to respond to your complaint as well as fulfilling any duty of care to you or to others.

We will seek to respond to your feedback or complaint in a timely manner. We will provide a formal response to a complaint within 28 days of receiving the complaint.

We will provide you with a written outcome of your complaint, unless you are providing feedback and are not seeking a response.

Support and accessibility

You can use an advocate or support person of your choice at any point in the complaints process if you would like assistance.

To speak to us in another language, ask a RAV staff member for help, or call the Translating and Interpreting Service Contact Centre on 13 14 50.

Interpreters can be pre-arranged if requested.

If you are Deaf/deaf or hard of hearing, we welcome calls through the National Relay Service.
